To ensure transparency and accountability, our environmental policy will be readily available on our website for all clients, suppliers, and stakeholders to access and share.

Additionally, we understand the importance of incorporating sustainability into every aspect of our operations. Therefore, our environmental policy will be included as an integral part of any agreement we enter into with third-party suppliers.

To demonstrate our dedication to compliance, we commit to monitoring to all relevant environmental laws, as well as industry-standard practices.

TRANSPORT AND PRODUCTION

To minimise the carbon footprint associated with travel, we offer interactive virtual tours that allow event organisers to explore our venue online, reducing the need for unnecessary travel miles.

Furthermore, we prioritise the use of local products and services to reduce transportation requirements. Whenever possible, we opt for energy-efficient vehicles to further minimise our impact on the environment.

Conveniently situated in the heart of London, Kent House Knightsbridge can be easily accessed via public transport, making it a sustainable choice for events.

Our commitment extends to reducing external deliveries by owning our own LED lighting, staging, and AV equipment, and repurposing set builds whenever feasible.

In collaboration with our caterers, we strive to source seasonal and local produce to support regional communities and reduce the environmental impact of long-distance transportation.

We also offer menus are designed with a 10-mile radius in mind, ensuring freshness and minimising carbon emissions.

To combat plastic pollution, our catering partners have committed to banning the use of straws and eliminating the use of plastic wherever possible. They also prioritise procuring food from sustainable sources and work to minimise waste generation.

Recognising the importance of plant-based diets, we have expanded our range of plant-based menus, providing healthier and more sustainable options for our guests.
